Re: Consultation on Red Binder changes

Proposed revisions to the Red Binder, the campus Academic Personnel policy and procedure manual, are now available for review and comment.

Changes reflect the recent unionization of the Academic Researcher employees (Research, Project Scientist, and Specialist series). Within the documents, changes are shaded; additions are marked in italics and deletions in strike-through. Please note that specific MOU article numbers currently blank in the drafts will be filled in once designated by Office of the President.

The draft changes may be viewed on the Academic Personnel web-site at <https://ap.ucsb.edu/policies.and.procedures/red.binder/drafts/> The link is not displayed publicly; please either link directly from this e-mail or cut and past the address into your browser.

Please forward this notice on to other non-senate academic employees within your unit as appropriate. I would appreciate receiving feedback by February 12, 2020.
