Re: Academic Student appointee range adjustment update

As of this time we are still awaiting word from the UCPATH Center regarding the lift of the freeze to accommodate the October 1, 2018 range adjustment. You will be notified as soon as we receive confirmation of completion of the process.

Please note: the UCPATH support labs will be dedicated to supporting outstanding graduate student transactions on October 17 and 18. The schedule is available on the UCPATH website here. In the event that the freeze has not been lifted by tomorrow morning, the lab is still available for non-pay impacting transactions or for help staging pay impacting transactions for submission once the freeze is lifted.

We are also aware of the backlog of transactions at the UCPATH center. We have been assured by the UCPATH Center leadership that all pay impacting transactions that are correct and submitted prior to the relevant payroll deadline will be processed prior to the pay issuance.
