Re: Consultation on Red Binder changes

Proposed revisions to the Red Binder, the campus Academic Personnel policy and procedure manual, are now available for review and comment. The “Summary of Draft Changes” posted along with the draft sections will provide you with information about each proposed change. Within the documents changes are shaded; additions are marked in italics and deletions in strike-through.

The draft changes may be viewed on the Academic Personnel web-site at <https://ap.ucsb.edu/policies.and.procedures/red.binder/drafts>. The link is not displayed publicly; please either link directly from this e-mail or cut and past the address into your browser.

Please forward this notice on to other non-senate academic employees within your unit as appropriate. I would appreciate receiving feedback by November 10, 2014.

Comments may be e-mailed to my attention at Cindy.Doherty@ucsb.edu
